

Grundtvig Partnership Project - 2013/2015

YWOLI project was secured under the European Union's Lifelong Learning programme. Grundtvig partnership programme allows organisations to participate in training activities.

The partnership is made up of 9 countries including, Romania, Poland, United Kingdom, Spain, Belgium, Germany, Czech Republic, Iceland and Ireland.

YWOLI Grundtvig partnership will look at training initiatives supporting young women for professional life, to be a catalyst, offering information, inspiration and support.

The target group is represented by young women (20-30 years).

Main objective of the project is:

- ◆ To reduce women unemployment through a better preparation for the insertion in the labour market.

The project will look at how:

- ◆ To prepare young women for the insertion on the labour market assisting them in using the Internet data base for searching jobs, in elaborating the Europass CV or preparing for the interview
- ◆ To promote entrepreneurship amongst young women offering them ideas for starting a business
- ◆ Through the example of some successful women to acknowledge that they can be successful in professional life
- ◆ To conduct a comparative study about the role of women in different European societies
- ◆ To conduct a comparative study about cultural stereotypes about women in different European societies
- ◆ To acquire professional English competencies and to improve their oral fluency in English
